NEWS IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS!

Three Vernon Hoop Teams Must Overcome Deficits To Stay in Valley Finale

Three Vernon basketball teams enter second games of the first round of interior play-offs with deficits on the ledgers. At Kelowna on Saturday night, Nick's Aces dropped the decision to Kelowna 32-27, and the Vernon Inter B quintet trailed Kelowna 33-25. In Vernon last Friday night the Vernon Senior B's were nosed out 35-33.

The Seniors will play in Kelowna next Saturday and are determined to stage a stiff battle to stay in the play-off picture. The A's and B's will meet their Kelowna opponents here on Friday and must win to keep their hopes alive.

Both the A's and the B's have a chance to make good but the Seniors are working against a heavy handicap. They are short of players and they may have to meet Kelowna without any substitutes, which makes the going rough.

Inter B Game

In the first half of the Inter B game the Vernon boys applied strong pressure on the home club and at 11 minutes were leading 15-10. The Kelowna defence tightened up in the next two quarters and the tuxis team stepped away from the visitors. The final quarter was decisive as Kelowna came home 13 points to Vernon's four.

David Snow topped the scoring in the game with 15 points. He sparked Vernon's attack in the two initial quarters but was held in close check in the final half. Gee led Kelowna with 12 points. Almost every Kelowna player in uniform found the basket while Vernon's scoring was limited to four players.

New backboards and baskets had the Vernon team at a disadvantage for a time until they got used to them.

The Teams

Kelowna: Gee, 12; Day, 2; Kimishita, 4; Cookson, Maguire, 2; Jones, 6; Hardy, 2; Horner, 4; Matheson, 1.
Vernon: Snow, 15; Armstrong, 3; Seaton, 4; Douglas, 3; Thorsteinson; Macdonell; Janicki; Fleming.

Inter A Game

Nick's Aces had some uncomfortable moments in the Inter A encounter. At the halfway point they were trailing by four points and by the three quarter mark Kelowna had increased their lead to 12 points.

The home club were checking hard and their shooting was effective while the Vernon team were finding difficulty in mastering the new type backboards. On top of that, the Aces' two top scoring artists, Otto Munk and Bill Koshman, were being checked off their feet as the Kelowna boys determined not to let either of them break into one of their customary scoring streaks.

The last quarter saw Vernon's bid to get back into the game and by scoring 11 points to four they chopped seven points of the home club's lead. They still have to find five counters to offset the advantage Kelowna carries into the second game next Friday in Vernon.

Despite the close checking Munk and Koshman netted eight points each while Walter Johnson used a number of free shots to advantage to collect seven. H. Tostenson headed the game's scoring with 10 points while his running mate, Saucier, produced a handy nine.

The Teams
Kelowna: H. Tostenson, 10; Saucier, 9; Weddell, 7; Stewart, 1; Ferguson, 10; Leake, 2; Harding, Currell, 1; Abbott, 2.
Vernon: O. Munk, 8; McCluskey; Koshman, 8; A. Munk, 1; F. Smith, 2; Johnson, 1; Ikeda; McMaster, 1.

Senior B Game

The Senior B encounter in Vernon probably was the closest game of the three. At no time did either team get very far from the other on the scoreboard.

At the first quarter, Vernon was leading by one point while the score was touch and go all the way with a minimum of scoring. A couple of baskets and a free shot gave Kelowna five points while Vernon reversed the procedure with Doug French sinking one basket and Jack Willis netting two free attempts on the Kelowna basket. That added four points to the Vernon collection and the score stood at 12-12 when the teams went off for 10 minutes breather.

Kelowna attacked hard in the third quarter but the local defence was good. The visitors took a three point lead in the 15 minutes largely on scoring free shots. Vernon missed enough of the shots to have given them equal points.

The final quarter was fast and free scoring. Each quintet found the basket seven times on the play and Jack Inglis converted a penalty shot into a counter which gave the Vernon team the edge on the play but not enough to equalize.

After a slow start, Jack Inglis started to hit his stride and led the Vernon scoring with 11 points in the final two quarters. During the first two quarters Inglis did some sterling work at guard. Jack Willis played a consistent game throughout and rang in nine points. Emory Green and Doug French turned in consistently effective performances.

The Vernon team had only six players in uniform for the game. The shortage of reserves told against them. Saddest piece of news for the Senior B team in the week was the B.C. Amateur Basketball Association's refusal to grant John Fowle his transfer from Nanaimo where he played for the army before securing his discharge and coming home. The devoted ways of the official mind are exceedingly strange.

The Teams
Kelowna: Campbell, 2; Cross, 5; Clarke, 3; Bach, 3; Snowsall, 5; Wynne, 1; Bissell, 2; Hardy, 10; Reid, 6; Bowen, 2.
Vernon: Green, 6; Inglis, 11; Willis, 9; Ward, 2; French, 5; Stephens.

Laurie Kwong Hits Hockey Headlines With Smoke Eaters

There was a day when Vernon imported hockey players. Now it seems the town is in the export business. Recent reports from Trail indicate that Laurie Kwong, more familiar to hockey fans as Larry or the China Clipper, is doing big things on the line-up of the Trail Smoke Eaters.

Two headlines in the Trail Daily Times are indicative of how the erstwhile Vernon players is showing in senior hockey. They read: "Kwong Breaks Up Contest To Nose Out Nelson 8-6" and "Kwong's Four Goals Lead To Kimberley's Downfall".

To back up these superlatives is a quotation from one of the "Times" stories: "Little Larry Kwong equalled a season's scoring record as he gave a brilliant performance on top of consistent play all year . . . He was deadly every time he got his stick on a puck in the vicinity of the Kimberley cage."

One Point Separates First And Second Teams In Local Cribbage League Standing

With two-thirds of the schedule played in the local cribbage league, the fight for leadership has narrowed down to four teams. The Phoenix, who have been sitting on top of the heap for a good many weeks, found a sharp setback during the week while the Scottish Daughters continued to climb.

The Legion team has taken a slender hold on the first place with a one point margin over the Scottish Daughters. The Phoenix are in third place with the Men's Club still threatening in fourth.

Following are the standings and scores for the week ending February 23:
Legion Daughters 62,941
Scottish Daughters 62,940
Phoenix 62,939
Men's Club 62,790
W.O.W. 62,380
Robokahs 62,284
Commandos 62,182
Independents 61,972
W.A.C. 61,702

Teen Town Plans First Election

The provisional council of Vernon's Teen Town is studying the proposed constitution of the organization and paying the way for the first general election.

In the meantime, numerous activities have been held and are being planned. The first dance was held in the Illeg School library a week ago last Friday and last Friday a skating party at the Vernon Civic Arena was highly successful. Last night, Wednesday, education and recreational films from the Film Council Library were shown to an appreciative group.

This afternoon, Thursday, a "girls only" meeting in the South Hall will hear a beauty expert, Miss Jean Wilson, of Winnipeg, give advice on the care of the hair. One of the plans being considered for the future is a barn dance which will give the Teen Agents a chance to go rustic.

Okanagan Bonspiel 5 Days

Indications are that the 1946 Okanagan Bonspiel in Vernon will be as big or bigger than ever before. With the dates of the 'spiel still a month away, there are 23 outside rinks entered. Play will begin on April 1 and continue through to April 5.

Interest in the bonspiel extends to almost every section of the province. The entries so far received are from Nelson, Trail, Copper Mountain, Princeton, Merritt, Penticton, Kelowna, Vancouver, Chilliwack, Quesnel, Wells, Salmon Arm and Grand Forks. It is anticipated that rinks at Armstrong and Enderby will enter and others are likely.

There will be six major competitions and the trophies to be won are the B.C. Box, Nabob, Buckenfields, Liphardt, Coldstream Hotel and McCallum. In addition there will be a secondary consolation competition.

Vernon Midgets, Juveniles Oust Salmon Arm Hockey Rivals From Valley Series

Vernon's Midget hockey team, the Klin Kids, and the city's Juveniles, the Lions Cubs, eliminated their Salmon Arm counterparts from the Okanagan hockey picture for this season in games here Saturday and Monday nights. The total goal count for the two Midget games was Vernon 19, Salmon Arm 3, and for the two Juvenile games, Vernon 20, Salmon Arm 6.

After Saturday night's games there was not much doubt that the Vernon teams had the series neatly in their pockets but the Salmon Arm clubs had lots of fight and wanted a second crack at their Vernon rivals. Although outplayed, they acquitted themselves well.

Owing to absence of a league for either Midgets or Juveniles, the Vernon teams needed the games to find out what they could do. Their technique is not yet foolproof and they still have rough spots to iron out before they meet Coast and Kootenay teams in their respective divisions.

The Juveniles have two strong forward lines which work well but their defence is still guilty of fairly grave tactical errors from time to time. That is something that will have to be fixed before they go any farther in provincial play. The Midgets are a nicely balanced team. They showed that when they play the combination hockey of which they are capable, they will be dangerous to the best opponents they are likely to meet.

The Salmon Arm teams have been handicapped by lack of ice. Nevertheless, they staged a spirited fight and at times succeeded in tying up the Vernon teams quite neatly.

Vernon's goal keepers were both outstanding. Erven Freund, in the Midget's net, handled 49 Salmon Arm shots in the two games. Just three of them got past him, which is a record in which he can take some pride.

John Baumbrough, looking after things between the uprights for the Juveniles, had to contend with 55 shots. Of the shots that evaded him, one was a penalty shot which did not give him much of a chance. Both goal tenders are cool in the net and neither of them appears to be the worrying type.

Scoring Summary
Vernon Midgets: Mills, 1 goal; Henschke, 2 goals, 4 assists; Janzow, 5 goals, 1 assist; Richardson, 3 goals, 3 assists; Abbott, 3 goals, 1 assist; Fisher, 2 goals; Sparrow, 2 goals. Kaminsky, 1 goal, 2 assists.

German People Gorgeous In Looted Finery While Liberated Lands Suffer

The Germans today are better dressed, better shod and better fed than the peoples who conquered them.

Men and women tread Berlin's fashionable Kurfurstendamm in furs and shoes which are the loot of Europe. Even haubaus in the side streets wear leather shoes. But the main streets of France, Belgium and Holland resound to the klop-klop of wooden sabots.

The so-called starvation of the German people has had more publicity than the lot of the Dutch, the French, the Poles and the other liberated peoples. This probably springs from an ironic fact: U.S. occupation troops see what is happening in Germany. They don't see what's happening elsewhere.

It's easy to understand how stories of German starvation get back across the Atlantic states the Winnipeg Free Press. To the soldier whose daily ration approaches 3,500 calories, the German who must get along on 1,500 calories a day doesn't seem to be eating well. The German himself is the first person to bend a willing American ear to a woeful tale of starvation.

But the German figures—both literally and figuratively—believe this story. Epidemics, for example, which would be the first sign of under-nourishment, have been conspicuous by their absence.

It is not known whether every German is getting the 1,500-calorie ration which the U.S. is committed to make available. On the other hand no complaint from German sources claiming that this ration is being received. What the German kick invariably comes down to is that 1,500 calories a day won't keep beer-burgoned bellies bloated.

No one denies this. There are nearly 1,500 calories in each of the dinners on American dinner tables these days. On the other hand, 1,500 calories a day compares extremely favorably to the nourishment available to the average European outside of Germany.

The official French ration does not today pretend to be 1,500 calories. And it's been few weeks that the French wife has left her food queues with everything that the ration called for. Part of the French food deficiency is due to the black market.

But, for better reason or worse, the French middle class is eating very, very little these days—or paying fantastic prices for one good meal a week. A black market meal in Paris today costs $2 to $20—and remember that French salaries are far lower than American.

For a family the week's meat ration in a small community just outside Paris is about one-half a pound of meat for three people, for the entire week. Almost all of it is fat and gristle.

Often when there isn't meat, there's fish—in the black market. Sixty cents a pound is paid for inferior sole. Oysters run up to $2.50 a dozen at the market. Small Christmas chickens for the staff cost more than $5 each.

For the French this very inferior diet comes after five years of a German occupation diet which makes 1,500 calories a day look like steak four times a day.

If the Germans are starving, the French have been dead for five years.

5,000,000 Britishers May Choose Own Jobs Shortly

Approximately 5,000,000 of Britain's 8,350,000 workers subject to the essential works order which empowers the government to choose their jobs, will be free to work at what they please by mid-May, the labor ministry has announced.

The ministry also disclosed that 548,000 women were employed during the war had retired from industry. The peak of women workers was reached in September, 1943, when 7,265,000 were employed.

human brotherhood which we all put in.

Alexandra Nichols and her ilk will face the same when a sufficient number of the working people awake to consciousness and responsibility, and educate themselves, through reason. They will then cast their gullibility like a snake its skin, and reject propaganda inimical to their interests. The rapidly with which the people are now doing this, alarms the enemy till their swan-song swells to a frantic crescendo. Don't pretend Democracy! Get it! GRACE WORTH.

Purple Butter Coupons Expire Today, Feb. 28

Vernon shoppers are reminded that purple butter coupons, numbers 118 to 139 inclusive, expire February 28. Butter distributors and storekeepers may not accept these coupons after today.

Distributors will have until March 14 to deposit the purple coupons at their bank or have them exchanged for bank transfer vouchers.

Officials explain that, since blue "R" coupons now are being used for butter, it has been decided to remove the purple coupons from circulation.

Blue coupons "R1" and "R2" are now valid.

Merchandise Exports On Upgrade

Canada's merchandise exports still suffering heavily from the discontinuance of war materials, are reflecting a broader field and show also the part the Dominion is playing in world rehabilitation.

Figures issued Saturday by the Dominion bureau of statistics show that while January exports of war material amounted to only $109,000 compared with $114,896,000 the same month last year, the shipment of non-war commodities jumped to $188,981,000 from $115,602,000.

Total exports for the month, excluding gold, were valued at $189,090,000 compared with $230,498,000 in January, 1945.

The new figures show substantial trade with many countries which a year ago were cut off entirely from the Dominion by war boundaries. These countries include most of the nations on the European continent and a number of Pacific islands, such as the Philippines.

Canada's participation in the rehabilitation of countries of continental Europe was reflected particularly in the following January exports, (exports for January, 1945, in brackets):

Belgium $5,058,782 ($1,237); Czechoslovakia $2,092,038 (nil); France $4,280,882 ($2,300,435); Norway $2,244,097 (nil); Poland $2,834,097 (nil); and Yugoslavia $1,529,025 ($9,820).

Export of Canadian agricultural and vegetable products rose to $48,155,000 in January from $26,400,000 the same month last year, with wheat shipments $23,655,000 against $6,606,000; wheat flour $8,842,000 against $5,643,000 and animal products $35,114,000 against $30,513,000.

Wood and paper products exported were valued at $42,261,000 compared with $31,852,000.

Legion Convention In Quebec Next May

Veterans of both great wars will rally in the first peacetime convention of the Canadian Legion since 1918, when delegates from all over Canada and parts of the United States will discuss problems of national importance at the biennial convention to be held at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec City, May 19 to May 23.

Delegates coming from some 2,000 branches and representing more than 250,000 members will gather at the Palais Montcalm for the official opening at 8:30 p.m. Sunday, May 19. The following morning they will get down to business at the Chateau Frontenac.

The convention will, without doubt, be the largest representative one in the history of the Legion and with the influx of new blood promises to be one of the liveliest. To date every effort is being made by the older members to encourage and train the new veterans to take over executive positions, and many new additions are expected.

Siberia is almost twice as large as continental United States.

Cattle Growers

was explained by several farmers who have used the method successfully. The meeting decided that the association should investigate the possibility of purchasing a portable power sprayer for the use of members. An application to the Horned Cattle Fund for financial assistance in this matter will be made.
The North Okanagan Association has 41 members at the present time. This represents over 5,000 cattle.

LETTERS

of General Interest

Expounds "Human Brotherhood"

Editor, The Vernon News, Sir:

Thank you for your page of February 14. May I comment on a few discrepancies in your editorial of Mrs. Bradford's letter.

1. This scale does not obtain in Canada. Perhaps not now, but when Mrs. Bradford received that scale, the Steven's report revealed even worse conditions here. And the higher our standard of living the more disgrace in such submergence.

2. Britain needed airplane parts without regard to costs, etc. Of equal urgency are our present needs! While we bicker over costs the ship of freedom will wash up on the rocks. The airplane factory way is the surest way for full production. Pardon my reference to Russia, but my guess is that she's going full steam ahead, with money a secondary consideration. If music stimulates effort it will be used. It stimulates the cows as you know.

3. "Your reference to Canadian progress in material wealth: Our immense natural wealth has enabled progress in spite of past methods. But when we point with pride to Canada's accomplishments under Capitalism, we present a facade behind which 'The History Of Canadian Wealth' shows much to be ashamed of, which a more humane method could have avoided. The past is done, but let us not open the future with the 'past's blood-rusty key'! Egypt's Pyramids, China's Wall, India's Taj Mahal and so on, are great accomplishments too, but from the angle of justice, these monuments are saturated in the blood of human sacrifice.

4. "The cost of war must be paid for either in goods or money." In the last analysis the cost of anything must be paid for in goods. Money without goods is useless and ceases to be even a symbol.

5. "The cost of the war was heavily financed by credit." The true credit of a nation consists of its natural resources plus the ability, and willingness of its citizens to produce transferable wealth from those resources. The tremendous wealth produced during the war is mostly beyond redemption, so we must now produce a different kind of wealth to replace it. In producing to our fullest capacity we can in reasonable time attain our first essential goal: Success for the war-torn world, and payment of our debts, which latter action will automatically help raise our standard of living. We must win the peace, we present war but by production for life instead of for death. We must do this or slide back to depression and chaos. What the latter would lead to I dare not contemplate.

6. "Canada with standards of personal liberty, freedom, and equality of the individual, as inherited from Britain." I was raised in glorious Devon. The common rural people had neither freedom, liberty, nor equality. Those who apparently had freedom in our parish were His Lordship, and Squire Podo, and the Squire didn't have it in the presence of His Lordship. The parson pretended he had it but didn't. Not one of us "from the Colonel's lady to Judy O'Grady" had equality. We had quality of course, and we had quantity, was the youngest of 12) but e-quality, never!

At Queen Victoria's jubilee celebration, quality seemed so numerous that I almost got a permanent kink in my knees through genuflection. You couldn't inherit what was non-existent. But Canada is lucky, for she inherited me and many like me. We fled from the above conditions in search of freedom. So far it has eluded us but our knees are much better, thank you!

7. "We require no outside pattern and no wholesale ideas incompatible with our national traditions." Canada, like the World, is a "crucible." Of necessity it is filling and must fill from outside patterns. Ideas, and traditions, many of them incompatible to the whole, and parts of the whole. All these things make the Canada you are proud of. And the strength and beauty of the future blend will depend on the degree of tolerance and the amount of the spirit of human brotherhood which we all put in.

Alexandra Nichols and her ilk will face the same when a sufficient number of the working people awake to consciousness and responsibility, and educate themselves, through reason. They will then cast their gullibility like a snake its skin, and reject propaganda inimical to their interests. The rapidly with which the people are now doing this, alarms the enemy till their swan-song swells to a frantic crescendo. Don't pretend Democracy! Get it! GRACE WORTH.

First Ice Cream—Yum! Yum!

Children of British war brides and their ex-soldier husbands are finding Canada an easy place to like, especially when there are such things as ice cream. Michael and Cynthia Martin, aged 3 and 1, just arrived off the liner Mauretania get their first taste of ice cream (above) and Cynthia wants daddy to share her new-found dollyony.

Barren Trading Post Is Next Stop For "Muskox"

BAKER LAKE, Feb. 25.—This Eskimo trading post in the belt of barren lakes not far below the Arctic circle is the next stop for the Muskox men, expected here in a few days.

A reporter from the Winnipeg Free Press was the first newspaperman to fly in from Churchill across 400 miles of frozen and little mapped wastes still covered with glaciers tracks of 100,000 years ago. The only sign of life to be observed from the air was three caribou in flight.

We landed on the airstrip, he writes—a 3,500 foot clearing on the edge of Baker Lake—the only R.C.A.F. base on a frozen lake. It was cleared by an advance party led by Col. Graham Rowley, scientific explorer who, in 1939, made an original crossing of Baffin Island.

The Eskimos here still remember Linbergh and his wife who, in the fall of 1931, landed their pontoon-shod plane on the lake. So does Sandy Lunan, Hudson's Bay post manager. He said Linbergh and his wife "stopped overnight at my place on their way to Japan."

Baker Lake settlement consists of an R.C.M.P. post, Anglican and Roman Catholic missions and the Hudson's Bay post. What with the influx of Muskox men to man the air strip and meteorological station, there is a shortage of housing. Right now there are about a dozen igloos erected by the Eskimos.

Young Veteran Heads Kelowna Branch of Canadian Legion

KELOWNA, Feb. 27.—W. J. Anderson was elected the new president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion as the result of a ballot taken at the organization's club rooms. Mr. Anderson, a Great War II veteran, defeated the retiring president, Tom Craft, by a 37 vote majority.

It was one of the lightest votes cast in several years, only 215 members exercising their franchise. J. H. Fisher and George Handlen were elected as first and second vice-presidents respectively.

The newspaper man dropped in to visit an aged Eskimo couple living in a duplex snow house. The ante-room leads to a tunnel into the living room, five feet below snow level. For a window, they have a sheet of ice in the roof.

He asked "Mack Kung Id"—known as Mr. Pork—for a slice of "tuktoo," frozen caribou. Having settled in Baker Lake, he knew some English but misunderstood the request and offered a whole quarter of caribou.

Finally through motions the reporter made known his wish. No stickler for etiquette, Mr. Pork placed his moccasined foot over the quarter to steady it, then hacked a slice off with his hatchet. It was stringy, but rather sweet and tender. It has no gamey flavor like venison.

Later in the evening he supped with Mr. Lunan on stewed caribou from the very same animal as Mr. Pork's quarter—killed last fall.

One visiting Eskimo took a fancy to the snow-mobile he saw for the first time. It would be nice to have to run around in, he told Mr. Lunan.

Even at Baker Lake the Eskimos do not care for the cold "spell" which has settled at 49 below.

Col. Rowley and his men live a rugged existence, working in the open, handling supplies from the planes. Because of the heavy volume of radio traffic, WO, Ted Heavens, Calgary, doesn't know whether he can send this message.

Flying up here, FO, Jack Hickey, navigating pilot, and FO, Jack Hall, of Winnipeg, had trouble with the north magnetic pole. The compass was as much as 40 degrees out.

Subsidy Stopped On Jellies, Jams

Subsidy payments to the manufacturers of jams and jellies will be discontinued after March 1 and a ceiling adjustment equivalent to the subsidy will be allowed, the prices board at Ottawa announced Sunday night.

A board statement said when these stocks reach retailers the authorized maximum price would be raised by approximately four cents on standard 2-lb. (24 fluid ounce) jars. The adjustment, however, would vary according to variety, grade and size of container.

The subsidy had been in effect since June, 1943.

Land Development On West Side Okanagan Lake Urged

KELOWNA, Feb. 27.—The need for the immediate development of land on the Westside of Okanagan Lake is again being presented to the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Agriculture by the Kelowna Board of Trade. The section of land in question is adjacent to Westbank, and has been considered by the on-again-off-again Veterans Affairs Department and a favorable report given. For the past two years, the Kelowna Board has been pressing for its development for the rehabilitation of returning servicemen.

Commissioner Says Red Cross Emphasizes Best Traits in Human Nature

By Mabel Johnson
VANCOUVER, Feb. 22.—The Red Cross emphasizes one of the best traits in human nature, said Dr. Fred W. Routley, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society, at the 27th annual conference, B.C. Division, Red Cross Society, in Hotel Vancouver on Thursday morning.

Dr. Routley's address was one of the highlights of the conference. The wide attendance from every corner of the province is an indication that interest in the Red Cross is not dead. "Its workers are standing on the threshold of a new day in Canada," he declared, "waiting to take up the demands of the peace time era."

The speaker dwelt briefly on the major functions of the Red Cross, not forgetting the "faithful army of teachers" who are the inspiration and organizational force behind the efforts of 30,000 branches, which have raised $1,000,000 for the Red Cross during the war.

"The achievements in all lines of endeavor are worthy of commendation," said Dr. Routley. He traced the history of the Red Cross, "dominant in 1914," when it functioned sporadically and only in time of war. But, "continued the speaker, 'the Red Cross was a great and strong organization when this war came.'"

That 80 million dollars have been raised and spent and an additional 50 million distributed in supplies by the Red Cross during the war just concluded was a statement made. "And who," queried Dr. Routley, "are the people who have done all this? They are the members of little branches—and big—throughout this Canada of ours, who have worked for the cause of mercy, the Red Cross."

Six times as much goods as in the last war have been made, distributed and shipped between 1939 and 1945. Forty-five million articles excluding relief to prisoners of war, plus 6,000,000 in Canada, have been sent for the relief of suffering. Dr. Routley paid tribute to the work of Canadian women who made these articles. Their labor of love and service, he declared, would represent $50,000,000 if paid for on a monetary basis. Besides this, 500 vehicles have been bought and shipped overseas, such as ambulances and mobile kitchens.

The life-saving work of the Red Cross food parcels distributed amongst prisoners of war is a by-product, continued Dr. Routley. In addition, books, clothing and medical supplies were sent.

The speaker emphasized the continuing need of Home Nursing, swimming and First Aid training. He spoke of the work of the Lodges situated at DVA hospitals, which cater to the invalided servicemen and their dependents. Dr. Routley pleaded for sympathetic help and understanding for the veteran among the personnel of Red Cross branches.

Nutrition, disaster relief, outpost hospitals and the vital importance of the blood donor service which will make blood plasma "the greatest panacea for illness known to man" available to everyone without cost, were other highlights of Dr. Routley's address.

Concluding, he said that the past six and one-half years have been a time of great accomplishment for the Red Cross. "It must be forward-looking; a symbol for service in a great cause."

Some 2,500 war brides have come to British Columbia in the past year and 4,000 more are expected during the spring months. All travel under escort of Red Cross officials and are met on arrival by Red Cross workers.

Dr. Fred W. Routley

National Commissioner, Canadian Red Cross Society, who addressed the 27th Annual Conference in the Mayfair Room, Vancouver Hotel, on February 21. S. H. Wain was the official delegate from Vernon.

Red Cross Sent Quarter Million Pounds of Jam

VANCOUVER, Feb. 23.—Delegates to the Red Cross conference were told on Friday that 269,672 pounds of jam were distributed between January and June, 1945. Nine hundred and ninety-seven boxes of fruit were donated for this project from the Okanagan. Forty-eight branches of the Women's Institute in B.C., including Vernon, made cash donations.

It is not certain whether the project will be undertaken again this year, but if the Old Country needs jam, and sugar is available, jam making will get under way again this fall.

Those organizations which benefited from British Columbia's donation in 1945 included Canadian Military Hospitals, Medical Hospital Units, Maple Leaf Clubs, Army Leave centres, liberated countries and other organizations.

The Red Cross has supplied sugar, cans and labels. Out of the 269,672 pounds shipped overseas in 1945, only 89 four-pound cans failed to measure up to the standard required.

Penticton Woman Okanagan Member Red Cross Society

VANCOUVER, Feb. 23.—Mrs. W. S. Reader of Penticton, will replace Mrs. C. G. Bennett of that district as Red Cross Regional Representative for the Okanagan zone. Mrs. Bennett has retired after long service.

For six years Mrs. Reader has been chairman of the Women's War Work Committee in Penticton. She received her appointment at the 27th annual conference, Canadian Red Cross Society in Vancouver last Thursday.

P. McKergow Again Heads B.C. Red Cross

VANCOUVER, Feb. 23.—P. S. McKergow was elected president of the B.C. Division, Red Cross Society, at the closing session of the 27th annual conference last Friday in Hotel Vancouver. T. O. Clarke was elected first vice-president and Mrs. Austin Taylor second vice-president. McKergow was re-elected president.

Addressing the honor bestowed upon him, Mr. McKergow said: "The Red Cross is a forward looking symbol and a sign-post to a better Canadian life." Mr. McKergow was in Vernon on November 11, attending a Red Cross Regional conference.

A budget of $343,000 for the ensuing year was approved.

Bruce Buckfield, who was in England during the critical period of 1940-42, in an address to 300 delegates, stated: "The chances are 50-50 today as to whether England will survive economically."

That the "highways and byways of B.C. as well as the rest of the Dominion will be tapped for blood donors for a mammoth Canadian blood bank, available to everyone free of charge, was a statement by another official. On being asked for further information, he said details must be worked out.

Seed Potatoes for South America

Part of a cargo of 100,000 bushels Canadian certified seed potatoes at the port of St. John, N.B., en route to South America. Due to their notably high quality Canadian seed finds a ready market in many countries. The demand is increasing every year. In 1945 six and one-half million bushels of potatoes were certified for seed by the Plant Protection Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture. About 75 per cent of last year's seed crop will be exported.

H. Carl Goldenberg to Visit Okanagan Valley

Public hearings which opportunities will be afforded for municipalities and other organizations to present briefs in connection with the Provincial-Municipal survey now being conducted by H. Carl Goldenberg, are being arranged.

The first will be in Victoria on March 11 and 12 for the municipalities of Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich, and Esquimalt.

The Commission will then proceed to Vancouver where it will sit from March 18 to 20 and hear representations not only from the City of Vancouver but also North Vancouver (City and District), West Vancouver (City and District), West Vancouver, Burnaby, Richmond, Cranberry Lake, Gibson's Landing and Westview.

The New Westminster hearings will be held on March 21 and 22 for the municipalities of Chilliwack, New Westminster, Port Coquitlam, Port Moody, Chilliwack, Coquitlam, Delta, Fraser Mills, Kent, Langley, Maple Ridge, Mission, Pitt Meadows, Surrey, Abbotsford, Hope, and Mission.

Sittings will also be held at the following centres for the municipalities listed at a date to be announced later:

In Kamloops, for the city of Kamloops, Revelstoke, Salmon Arm (City and District), Merritt, and Lytton.

In Kelowna, for the municipalities of Armstrong, Enderby, Vernon, Coldstream, Glenora, Peachland, Penticton, Spallumcheen, Summerland, Oliver, Osoyoos, Kelowna.

Many species of fragile, delicate butterflies survive sub-zero winters under pieces of loose tree bark.

Municipalities' Education Tax Burden Lightened by Proposed Legislation

Lightening of the municipalities' burden of taxation with respect to education; power development; Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension, and testing of the Provincial Legislature's competency to impose a severance tax on timber cut by purchasers of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway timber land; were highlights of the speech from the Throne delivered by His Honour, the Lieutenant-Governor, at the opening session of the 21st parliament of British Columbia on Thursday.

Foremost among the legislation to be introduced at the Session will be that implementing the Cameron Report, the recommendations of which have been acclaimed as the most outstanding reforms in the field of education in the history of Canada.

With respect to the power development, an intimation of the magnitude of the B.C. Power Commission's program was contained in the announcement that legislation would be introduced increasing the borrowing powers of the Government for the purposes of the Commission, from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Reference was made to the survey of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension data and the proposed extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Peace River District in order to develop the vast northern resources. Coupled with this, was the announcement that the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Act of 1925 would be repealed so that the land grants provided therein might be retained for the people of British Columbia.

Reference likewise was made to the expansion program at the University of British Columbia; assistance to the municipalities in connection with slum clearance; modification of the Probation Act and a report to be submitted in connection with the recent series of Dominion-Provincial Conferences.

An all-time revenue collection of $40,813,808 was reported by the Premier as Minister of Finance in the submission of the Public Accounts to the Legislature on its opening day. The net revenue surplus amounted to $6,904,919.

The Public Accounts likewise disclosed that of a total appropriation of $35,697,259, the Province spent $33,908,889. The largest revenue producing department was the Liquor Commission which contributed $7,881,597. The next largest (Continued on Page 16)

Recent Thaw Ends Skating, Skiing For Lavington

LAVINGTON, Feb. 25.—Owing to the sudden thaw of the past few days, skiing in the Lavington hills has been temporarily halted. The school skating rink has also suffered after a few days of comparative warm weather. The roads in this district also leave much to be desired. Rain fell during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cotton arrived home a few days ago, after their three months' holiday spent with friends in Chicago, Ill., Vancouver and Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith were recent visitors to Salmon Valley. Mrs. John Hill left on Monday of last week to meet her daughter, Pte. Connie Hill, C.W.A.C., who arrived on the hospital ship "Lady Nelson." Pte. Hill will probably be a patient in Shaughnessy Hospital for a time.

Mrs. Pete Hodowansky is leaving this week with her three children, for their old home in Ontario.

Mrs. R. P. White, of Winfield, spent a couple of days here last week.

Niek Kozoris was up to spend the day on Sunday at the home of his mother.

The dance in the Coldstream Women's Institute Hall on Friday evening of this week is in aid of the Lavington Community Funds. A valuable door prize is to be offered. Tickets are also on sale for six white rabbits which are to be drawn for at a later date.

Friends will be glad to know Mrs. E. S. Oraster returned a few days ago, much improved in health, after a few weeks' stay at the Mineral Springs Hospital in Banff.

Large quantities of burlap wrappings, cotton waste and high-grade linen drawing cloth are used by steel companies annually.

The fruit growers of Winfield gathered at the orchard of A. P. S. S. on Friday morning where they saw H. Evans, of Vernon, give a demonstration on the pruning of fruit trees.

B.C. Beef Cattle Growers Suggest Laboratory Be Established At Kamloops

KAMLOOPS, Feb. 22.—B.C. Beef Cattle Growers Association directors on Saturday endorsed an Ashcroft Ranchers Association resolution calling for establishment at Kamloops of "a bacteriological and pathological laboratory for investigating diseases affecting livestock."

The Ashcroft association suggested the "proposed range experiment station at Tranquille" would be the logical site for the suggested pathological laboratory.

(It has been hinted in official quarters that the Tranquille station, closed since 1941, will be opened this year. The sum of $15,000 for its maintenance and operation has been included in the estimates of the federal department.)

The Ashcroft association also suggested that if the federal government should fail to do so, the British Columbia government should be asked to establish such a laboratory at Kamloops.

Kamloops Memorial Centre Construction This Summer

KAMLOOPS, Feb. 22.—The Memorial Centre emerged somewhat from the incubation stage, at Tuesday night's annual meeting of Kamloops and District Memorial Recreational Centre Society. When Mayor Fred W. Scott, chairman of the building committee, indicated a start on building the skating and curling rinks might be made by early summer, thus practically ensuring the existence of these facilities for next winter. It is the intention to shortly retain an architect to prepare working plans.

His Worship also hinted that the society's directors favor the view that the "vast project" should be undertaken in sections, as the money becomes available. There is, according to the audited statement presented by Treasurer J. Benton, better than $178,000 on hand today, practically enough, it is claimed, to pay for the skating and curling rinks.

First editor of the London News-Chronicle, which is celebrating its centenary this year, was the novelist Charles Dickens.

Moderation

IS THE PATH TO LASTING PEACE!

Today, moderation is a necessity. By moderating our pleasures, by controlling unessential spending, we serve our nation and ourselves best.

The House of Seagram for many years has advocated moderation. Now, during these days of adjustment, it suggests this even more strongly. We Canadians can still enjoy comforts, standards and pleasures that less fortunate people are denied. But let us remember that the continuation of these advantages belongs only to those who treat them with respect.

Let moderation be our intelligent contribution to the future—

moderation in spending—moderation in all things we do.

Charities Aided By Eastern Star; Bridge-Tea Given

The Valentine motif figured prominently in the decoration of the Burns' Hall for the bridge tea held by the Order of the Eastern Star in aid of its Charity Fund, on Tuesday afternoon of last week. The high popularity of the affair was evidenced in the fact that 22 tables of bridge were arranged.

The tea table was most attractively decorated. It was covered by a cut work frilly lace cloth with a carnation gown Valentine lady centre piece. Tiny gold and silver stars bespangled the small figures dressed as symbolical of the Order of the Eastern Star. The centre piece was flanked by silver candelabra bearing four red tapers, also decorated with tiny stars. Small red Valentine baskets filled with heart shaped candy were features of the table.

Winner of first prize at bridge was Mrs. E. D. Carmichael while second prize was won by Miss Beth Jermyn. Mrs. Struthers was awarded the consolation prize.

Arrangements for the bridge were made by Mrs. C. H. Porter and Mrs. E. F. Little. Mrs. Frank Boyne convoked. Members of the refreshment committee were Mrs. T. Collier, Mrs. T. Everard Clarke, Mrs. K. G. Clarke, and Mrs. John McIntosh.

Mrs. Collie, Mrs. M. A. Lincoln, Mrs. H. Woodhouse, Mrs. Cecil Johnston, Mrs. R. W. Lay and Mrs. C. H. Little presided at the urns and they were assisted by Miss Patricia Watkins, Mrs. Nathan Schlobov, Mrs. R. French and Miss Betty McCulloch.

Servitors were Mrs. H. H. Evans, Mrs. R. C. Ferguson and Mrs. Burton. Hall decorations were arranged by Mrs. Donald.

During the afternoon several musical selections were warmly received. The artists were Mrs. O. B. Evans, and Mrs. T. L. Harrison with Mrs. Carmichael as pianist.

Funeral services were held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Wednesday morning, February 27, at ten o'clock. Interment was in the Armstrong cemetery.

A Friendly Chat

By Cousin Rosemary

It is spring down here in Vancouver. For that fact we will overlook the weekend's pouring rain. In West Vancouver drifts of purple heather blaze in the rock gardens. In the calm shadow of the little Church of St. Francis in the Woods, Caulfields, the snowdrops, crocuses, violets and primroses are in full bloom.

Driving out to the Red Cross Lodge adjacent to the Military Hospital, forsythia and pink flowering almond are in bloom on Shaughnessy Heights.

In the store windows are wisps of pastel colored hats and that called millinery, or just hats. The florists display the most gorgeous array of spring flowers at pocket-book-bending prices, which makes one sigh—and walk away.

Looking For A Home? Hotels are packed with guests from far and wide, the most eye-catching being the young couples, some with kiddies, with the husband wearing the new familiar service button. And it seems that every one of them is looking for a place to live.

You, of our acquaintance on North Okanagan farms would never believe how we learn to manage with little or no butter. About the size and thickness of a postage stamp, the amount allowed for a meal looks lonely on the little dish provided. On three days in one week no butter was served in the hotel where we were staying at any meal.

It was inspiring to see the crowded congregation, despite a pouring wet Sunday morning, in one of Vancouver's oldest churches, where, it seemed to us, everyone joined in the singing.

Winter Knighthood Was In Flower To those who are fearful for the courtesies of a bygone generation, I would say that the age of chivalry is not dead, as there are still men who remove their hats in elevators when a lady is on board?" Is that the correct term? You know what I mean anyway. Crushed into a street car one tries to size people up on the basis of their faces and general appearance. Sometimes it is possible to check conclusions, when they are often found inaccurate.

The man with the glazed eyes and jaundiced face is not a dope addict but a tired office clerk. The boy in the million-dollar clothing and the shiny shoes is not the son of some tycoon, but the underpaid office boy who is attempting to disguise his poverty. The man in the baggy pants, cuffed shoes and battered hat is not a college professor but a successful merchant indifferent to clothes.

Agony of Rush Hours

Rush-hour street cars are always packed tighter than a crate of apples. The agony of travel prompts everyone who is not obliged to do so, to return home before the rush starts.

Then there are the people squeezed into the lobby of a public building, waiting for their turn in the revolving door. Most people move through the spinning door according to plan.

Occasionally a person balks and lets a section go by empty. This suggests they aren't on their toes, or their lives are not functioning properly. Or it may indicate they haven't yet outgrown the pioneer age, when you returned to your home after a week of travel missed stage coach and never grumbled.

A girl I know plainly admits she is always guilty of hesitating at revolving doors. She explained: "They're dangerous. They terrify me."

Yes, its a great life one leads in Vancouver. But the interior will look pretty good to me when I come home in a few days. Even there, the buds are fat on my lilac tree.

Winter BRIDES

Hattie Colquhoun

Anglican marriage rites, performed on Friday evening, February 22 in St. George's Church, Vancouver, by Rev. F. A. Ramsey, united a native daughter of Vernon, Patricia Margaret "Peggy" Colquhoun to Ross Hattie.

The bride, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. Colquhoun, who left Ewing's Landing some years ago for Vancouver where they now reside, was born in this city. Her groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Hattie of Vancouver. Returning to the mainland from a Vancouver Island honeymoon tomorrow, Friday, the couple will proceed to Seattle, where Mr. Hattie, winner of a fellowship in the University of Washington for aeronautical engineering, will continue his studies.

A half-circle of diamonds, her great-grandmother's engagement ring, was the "something old" worn by the bride. Her gown was of heavy parchment-white crepe, styled on classic lines, with lily-point sleeves and sweeping floor. A Juliet cap confined a shoulder length veil and purple heather with red rosebuds and creamy gardenias were worn on corsage.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. R. F. Wilson, the former Wendy Colquhoun. Her gown was of stiff heaven-blue moire, floor-length, with a tiny Juliet cap in tone, touched with violets, which flowers, with pink roses, were in her lace-trimmed Victorian pose. Robert F. Wilson was groomsmen, with Jim Hattie, Gordon Colquhoun, Alec Watt, Struthers Gunn and Len Taylor acting as ushers.

The church was decorated with a profusion of overgreen, pussy-willows and daffodils for the 8 p.m. ceremony.

At the reception tendered to a large company, including a number of interior visitors, at the home of the bride's parents, W. Morgan Thomas proposed the toast to his god-daughter, responded to by the groom. A two-tiered wedding cake was flanked by pastel-pink tapers in silver sconces, with carnations and white narcissi in silver bud vases. Mrs. W. Morgan Thomas and Mrs. R. R. McGregor presided at the urns.

For her wedding trip the bride changed into a suit of coral rose, short jigger coat and brown accessories. Among the numerous out-of-town guests was the bride's uncle, the former Air Commodore Herbert Hollock Kenyon, of Edmonton, and grand-mother, Mrs. A. H. Kenyon, of Vernon.

Becker - Barcelo
Erich Becker, of this city, and Dorothea Barcelo, of Keremeos, were united in marriage in a quiet ceremony at the residence of Rev. Carl Janzow on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Margaret Janzow attended the bride and R. Hofer, the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Becker will make their home in this city.

Martin - Lea
A quiet wedding ceremony was held on Thursday afternoon, February 14, in All Saints Church when Rev. J. Dalton united in marriage John Martin, son of D. Martin, of Vernon, and the late Mrs. Martin, and Dorothy Marie Lea, only daughter of Mrs. G. T. Lea, of Vernon, and the late Charles Lea.

The survey method was specially devised after a study of techniques in Great Britain and the United States. The survey team consisted of Dr. F. W. Hanley, medical officer, Miss Ruby White, nutritionist, Miss Edith Perkins, registered nurse, and Miss Patricia Macpherson, laboratory specialist.

"The survey promises to be a great success," Dr. Pott said, "thanks especially to the excellent co-operation received from the provincial Board of Health, the Vancouver Metropolitan Health Committee, the Red Cross Society and the nurses of the various health units visited. About 18 different school districts representing the province were visited in the neighborhoods of Vancouver, Nanaimo, Abbotsford, Prince George and Vernon."

"Specific results cannot yet be given because the unique aspect of this survey is the use of three special methods — dietary, clinical and biochemical — to arrive at a picture of the situation. These will now be brought together in a report with recommendations will be sent to the Provincial Health Officer."

Yes, experts say Lipton's has brisk flavour, always fresh, lively and full-bodied, never flat or insipid. Milady's Fur Coat To Cost More Next Winter

When milady goes to buy a new fur coat for the winter of 1946 it will cost her more, taking the recent fur auction sale in Montreal as a criterion, said W. M. Ritchie, Chief, Fur Inspection and Grading Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Most of the pelts offered sold at higher prices than at previous sales, with the exception of silver foxes.

Guides from Throughout North Okanagan Attend Largest Rally Held Here

Over 200 Girl Guides and Brownies of Vernon, Lumby, Armstrong and Coldstream attended the rally in the Scout Hall here on Thursday evening of last week. It was probably the most outstanding gathering of its kind ever held in this city.

The Guide companies and Brownie packs were inspected by Miss Illingworth, provincial commissioner, and Miss Hannah, provincial head of Guide training, who expressed gratification for the excellent attendance and smart appearance of all who participated.

Mrs. H. L. Courcier, district commissioner for the North Okanagan, welcomed the two provincial leaders and stated how fortunate the North Okanagan Guides were in having the leaders with them during Girl Guide-Boy Scout Week. She also expressed pleasure at the numbers of leaders and visitors who attended the rally.

The two purposes of the Week, to make Guides and Scouts conscious of the opportunities for community service and to bring to public attention the need for leaders, were outlined by Mrs. Courcier. "In these days," she said, "we hear a great deal concerning youth movements and youth activities, and in the Girl Guide movement we have an ideal organized youth activity. It aims to develop three great qualities, initiative, self-reliance and a sense of responsibility. The movement is inter-denominational and non-political. It really supplements the teaching of the home, school and church. Its desire is to co-operate with educational and other bodies working toward the same goal. The essence of the Guide movement is service — service to God and service to other people."

The two Vernon Brownie Packs under their leader, Eagle Owl Miss Grace Nichols enacted a beautiful Thinking Day ceremony, after which the Lumby Company under the direction of their captain, Miss Jean Morris, and their leader, Mrs. Jean Morris, enacted a beautiful candle lighting ceremony. Ten of their number enacted the Guide law with the remainder of the Company gathered around a campfire, providing a musical background.

The Lumby Guides also sang a rousing song, "British Columbia," which was written expressly for the Guides and given to the Lumby company by the composer, Miss Jean Pickering. The plane accompanied for the song.

Miss Betty Husband, captain of the Vernon company, had her patrol leaders present to Miss Illingworth nine recruits for enrolment. They were Pauline Thompson, Irene Sturges, Bernice Mueller, Gail LeRoy, Agnes Fletcher, Lorraine Coley, Valeria Land, Betty Fulton and Ruth Cox.

A proficiency badge was awarded to Joan Northcott, Miss Hannah enrolled one Ranger, Betty Cox, as a Guide.

In addressing the rally, Miss Illingworth told something of the tour of Europe after the liberation by Lady Baden Powell, the Chief Guide.

Wherever the Chief Guide went she was met not only by cheering Guides and Scouts, wearing the Scout uniforms which the Nazis had banned, but also she was cordially welcomed in every town and village. All borders were open to her as she came representing friendship and mutual understanding among the youth of the world.

The commissioner told how the Guides in France and Holland during the occupation when they were not allowed to meet, had doubled their numbers and how the Guides in London during the blitz had added 30,000 to their membership. She pointed to this as the inspiration for Canadian Guides and Scouts.

The rally program closed with the performance of the beautiful "Taps" ceremony after which refreshments were served by the Vernon Girl Guide Association. Mrs. G. Whithead was convener. Girl Guide-Boy Scout Week was brought to a close on Sunday with a church parade, Canon H. C. B. Church where Rev. Canon H. C. B. preached a special sermon for the boys and girls.

Doris Edna Gleed Wed at Winfield

OKANAGAN CENTRE, Feb. 25.—St. Margaret's Anglican Church at Winfield was the setting on Saturday afternoon for a pretty wedding when Doris Edna, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Gleed, of Okanagan Centre, became the bride of Christie Burnell Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Phillips, of Burnaby. Rev. A. E. Lett officiated at the service.

Dressed in a floor length gown of cream silk crepe with long veil and carrying a beautiful shower bouquet of pink carnations and maidenhair fern, the bride entered the church on her father's arm while the organist, Mrs. J. Seaton, softly played the Wedding March. After the bridal party took their place at the altar the congregation sang "The Voice That Breathed O' Eden" and during the signing of the register, Mrs. J. Seaton sang "O, Perfect Love" with Mrs. E. C. Hare accompanying at the organ.

Miss Ellen Gleed was her sister's bridesmaid. Her dress was a quiet blue crepe with small matching hat and the flowers she carried were yellow carnations.

Bryan Cooney was groomsmen while the ushers were Tom Collinson and Frank Constable. The Community Hall at Okanagan Centre was beautifully decorated for the reception. Spring flowers and festoons of white lent a bright atmosphere of color.

The bride party were seated in the centre of the hall at a long table covered with a lace cloth centred by a three-tier wedding cake. In a happy speech, H. Van-Ackeren proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. Over 150 guests were received by the young couple, the bride's parents and the bridegroom's mother.

The guests were seated at small tables throughout the hall. The bride's going away costume was a two-piece dress of crimson and black with black coat and hat to match with black accessories. The honeymoon is being spent at the Coast after which the couple will reside at Okanagan Centre.

The bride was born at Okanagan Centre and is a popular member of the community. She commenced her education at the Centre School, afterwards going to Kelowna High School and from there to Winnipeg where she graduated in home economics. She studied for a year at U.B.O. and recently was home economics teacher at Kelowna High School. The wedding was celebrated on the occasion of her recent return from overseas after several years service with the R.C.A.F. Guests at the wedding included the groom's mother, Mrs. E. E. Phillips of Burnaby, and Mrs. H. N. Williams, Miss Rose Tilton and Mrs. Arbuckle, all of Kelowna.

Stagette Club Program Varied

A review of the activities of the Vernon Stagette Club since the beginning of the new year reveals a varied program.

In January the club held its annual sleigh riding party and dance, which proved a great success.

The first meeting in February was an educational one at which films from the Vernon Film Council Library were shown.

Owing to the absence of the president, Miss Rhoda Foster, who attended the War Memorial meeting that night, the vice-president, Miss Nancy Bowen presided at the regular meeting on February 13.

After the business portion of the meeting, Miss Bowen, on behalf of the members, presented Miss Peggy MacLachlan with an engraved silver serving tray with the good wishes of the club on her forthcoming marriage.

As part of the program at this meeting, Miss "Frankie" Burn gave an interesting talk on her experiences as a V.A.D. Several games were played and the evening closed with the serving of refreshments.

Singer Heard In Recital Here Now On Broadway

It may be of interest to Vernon concert goers that Kenneth Spencer, eminent negro bass, who appeared in recital here a few years ago, is now singing the role of "Joe" in the New York revival of Jerome Kern's "Show Boat."

The resonant qualities of Mr. Spencer's voice and the vibrant quality of his personality are well remembered by all those in this city who attended his concert.

Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary Welcomes Four New Members At Meeting

Four new members joined the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion at the regular meeting on February 21. They were Mrs. E. French, Mrs. R. Kitto, Mrs. O. Domstad and Mrs. D. Land. Two visitors also were made welcome. They were Mrs. B. Brunner and Mrs. Lyle Galichan, the latter being an English war bride who arrived here on February 15.

The provincial convention is being held in Vancouver on March 17 to 20 inclusive. Mrs. E. M. Dickinson and Mrs. A. Campbell are going as official delegates from the local branch.

After the business meeting, Mr. Humphreys showed several films which were greatly appreciated by those present.

Peachland Manse Scene of Wedding

PEACHLAND, February 25.—An interesting and impressive ceremony was performed at high noon, February 16, in the manse of the United Church, Peachland, when Jijobu, of Westbank, became the bride of Naohiso Ozurki, also of Westbank. The bride gown was white silk and wearing a long flowing veil was given in marriage by her father and mother. Several relatives and friends were present to wish the young couple happiness. They will reside at Westbank by the lake. The Rev. Dr. A. D. MacKinnon officiated at the ceremony.

COMPLAINT
To me there's one thing in this world,
That always seems unfair;
Why should Jill have long, lank, locks,
While Jack's got wavy hair?
—JILL.

LUMBY, Feb. 25.—The marriage of Pte. Lenora Lorraine Brett, O.W.A.O., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brett, of Lumby, to Sgt. Wilbur Cederholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cederholm, of Salmon Arm, was solemnized on February 1 in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Vancouver.

The bride's going away costume was a two tone dress of turquoise blue and black with accessories to match. With it she wore a corsage of camellias and narcissi.

Borrowing Can Be Very Good Business

If you want to make your farm more productive, more profitable, you may be well advised to borrow money. If the purpose of the loan is sound, your borrowing can be very good business.

For instance, you may need a new plough, a new tractor or a new barn. You may want to repair or modernize your farmhouse or other buildings. . . you may want to install an electric or heating system or improve your present one.

For these and a score of other purposes, a B. of M. farm improvement loan may be the answer to your need. If you want to make your farm a better farm, why not call on Mr. McDowell, manager of the Bank of Montreal, and discuss your plans with him in confidence. His farming customers are borrowing money at very low cost and repaying it over extended periods.

Oyama Community Club Rebates Whether to Build New Hall or Renovate Old

OYAMA, Feb. 25.—The annual meeting of the Oyama Community Club was held on Wednesday of last week with 65 members in attendance and V. E. Ellison, president, presiding.

In the election of officers, Mr. Ellison was re-elected president, with K. Gingell as vice-president and H. Butterworth, treasurer.

Members of the directorate are: Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. Whipple, Mrs. Shaw-McLaren, Mrs. K. Wynne, A. Spencer, C. Potchecary and N. Allingham.

W. Hayward acted as spokesman for the Canadian Legion in suggesting that in the building of a new hall or renovation of the old one provision be made for Legion rooms.

Because the Legion members want to secure a licence, there was a great deal of discussion. Almost the entire evening was taken up with the questions concerning the Legion request and whether the old hall should be renovated or a new one built.

Some of the highlights of the past year reported by the directors drew considerable attention. Six social events were sponsored for the entertainment of the community.

Proprietors to the value of $867 were added to the hall during the year, $450 was donated to the Memorial Hall Fund and the cash balance in the bank is $194.

Every serviceman in this town was invited to attend one of the socials, a rehabilitation committee was formed, the Memorial Hall project has been under the club's direction, a club for servicemen was formed which later became the Canadian Legion, the Drama Club and dancing class were sponsored by the Community Club. As a result of a membership campaign, the club now has a membership of 98, a record.

The Club was unable to complete work on the skating rink but a good start was made.

The W. A. of St. Mary's Anglican Church will sponsor a parish get-together in the form of a whist and bridge tournament in the Oyama Community Hall on Tuesday evening, March 5 at 8 p.m.

The 1946 committee of the Parish of Woodside met at the vicarage February 21 and in the process of organization for the Anglican Advancement Appeal, which is now being carried out, Chairman for the districts were chosen: R. L. Towkins for Oyama, P. Williams for Okanagan Centre, These men, with their helpers, will shortly visit the people of the parish in accordance with a nation-wide appeal for a greater recognition of Christ and His Church.

During the intermissions an orchestra comprised of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith, Miss Elaine Jamieson and Mr. Bena played a number of selections.

After the performance, Misses Sheila MacLaren and Barbara Wynne presented Mrs. Potchecary, who directed the two plays, with a bouquet of flowers, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Aldred with gifts for their work in painting the scenery.

The hall was filled to capacity by an appreciative audience. Refreshments were served afterwards to the cast and their friends.

Kelowna Getting New High School

KELOWNA, Feb. 25.—Taxpayers of Kelowna will shortly be called upon to cast their approval on a $165,000 school board bylaw for the construction of a new High School unit in the city. On Monday night, a five-man delegation, headed by Dave Chapman, School Board Trustee Chairman, waited on the City Council and submitted estimates for this amount, stating that this is the minimum amount the Board can get along on in order to provide sufficient class-rooms for Kelowna's steadily mounting school army.

While the complete unit of the proposed new building will cost approximately $325,000, Mr. Chapman said it is planned to construct only part of the unit this year in order to take care of the present day needs.

The City Clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw to be submitted to Victoria for approval, and the plebiscite will probably be put before the local taxpayers in about five weeks' time. If the public approve the bylaw, construction on the new unit will probably get underway immediately in order to have at least some class rooms ready for the 1946 school term.

Penticton Municipality Has Cash Surplus at Year's End

PENTICTON, Feb. 25.—Audit of the books of the Municipality of Penticton for 1945 has just been completed by Campbell and Company, of Kelowna, and it is expected that the annual financial statement will be published on February 28.

Receipts and disbursements account shows that the municipality ended the year with a cash surplus in general account of $8,187. The year had started with a deficit of $7,570 left from 1944.

The following figures show the general account situation at the end of each year from 1940 forward: 1940, surplus, $3,104; 1941, surplus $3,010; 1942, surplus $8,825, plus establishment of $7,800 for equipment depreciation account; 1943, surplus $7,182 with depreciation account at $600.

Wenatchee To Hold Blossom Festival Again This Spring

For the first time since the spring of 1942, Wenatchee will hold its annual Blossom Festival this year. Dates will be set by a committee of horticultural experts within a few weeks to coincide with the peak blossom period in the Wenatchee Valley.

There will be parades as in former years. Festival this year will include a carnival, sports program and tours through the orchards.

Blossom time, production and progress will be the themes for the 24th festival. A Queen will be chosen from princesses from communities throughout the state.

Brasil's wheat and flour situation has become acute as a result of greatly reduced shipments of wheat from Argentina during the last quarter of 1945.

Bad Times Near For Stray Dogs

An active campaign to rid the city of stray dogs is to be started when a poundkeeper is engaged.

At Monday night's meeting, the City Council decided to advertise for a poundkeeper, whose primary duty would be to catch canines at large. Pay will be $25 per month, plus all fees as set out in the civic bylaw.

Mayor David Howie initiated the discussion by declaring that he had received complaints of the dog nuisance. Some residents have threatened to shoot strays on sight, he added.

A new pound is to be constructed as part of the city yard building program, but at present no quarters are available.

Athletic Board Formed To Co-ordinate Sports Activities in Kelowna

KELOWNA, Feb. 25.—If present plans can be brought to a successful conclusion, an athletic round table will soon be functioning in this city for the sole purpose of co-ordinating all recreational facilities and promoting sport and other recreational endeavors. At a meeting on Thursday night in the Women's Institute Hall, a committee was empowered to proceed with the formation of a provisional round table. The committee will probably contact all sporting organizations in the city and also the City Council, the Board of Trade, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the four service clubs—Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis, in an endeavor to have them affiliate with the new body and to name a provisional member of the "round table" to represent their organization on that board.

A giant telephone lens has been developed with a built-in heating system which prevents metal shrinkage and keeps the lens in sharp focus at high altitudes.

South Okanagan Coalition Party Made Permanent

KELOWNA, Feb. 22.—Political history was made in this Orchard City last Friday night, which, if grasped by political parties in other sections of the province, may see an end to the old-line Liberal and Progressive groups in British Columbia, and at the same time insure the province of a permanent organization composed of men solely interested in the Coalition idea and good government.

The occasion was the formation of a permanent Coalition party in South Okanagan constituency when about 200 persons crowded the Orange Hall to capacity, where they freely expressed their views on supporting the present Coalition government on a party basis. And as the air of political smoke cleared from the burning embers of political fire, the meeting almost unanimously went on record for the setting-up of an organization which would support the present government.

Even though the initial spadework had been completed, the meeting did not adjourn until a full slate of officers had been elected to carry out the detail work. As a result, Wilson McGill was unanimously chosen president, Jack Lane, vice-president, and Peter Murdoch, secretary-treasurer. Members of the executive are Harry F. Chaplin, John Cushing, C. Inglis, Dr. F. L. Fitzpatrick, Rutland, H. A. Truswell, Jack Kennedy and C. R. Bull.

Registry Officer Retires

KAMLOOPS, Feb. 22.—R. A. Braden, registrar in charge of the land registry office here for the last 17 years, has terminated his duties on the advice of his doctor, and is now on sick leave pending superannuation in June. He expects to leave for the coast at the end of the month and will spend the next six or eight months resting at the seaside, probably at some spot in the Gulf Islands. Following that Mr. Braden will make his home at the coast.

RUTLAND, Feb. 25.—Boy Scout week was featured in Rutland by a number of activities by the local troop and pack. On Tuesday evening the Scout troop, 36 strong, under Scoutmaster Gray, and A.S.M.'s Duncan and Elliot, visited the 1st Kelowna troop at their Scout Hall, Kelowna, for an evening of inter-troop competitions and games, followed by refreshments.

On Friday evening, February 22, the local Boy Scouts Association held their annual card party in the Community Hall. The Association netted about $18 from this enjoyable affair.

On Sunday evening, February 24, the Scout Troop and Wolf Club pack held a church parade to the United Church, where Rev. J. A. Petrie delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion of Scout and Guide Week and "World Brotherhood" Sunday.

Peachland Wins
On Friday evening boys and girls High School basketball teams journeyed to Peachland to play teams in that district, going down by school bus. The Peachland teams proved too strong once more, and the Rutland teams lost both games.

The Central Okanagan United School Board has purchased seven acres of land from J. Hanet opposite the present school for additional play grounds.

Mrs. John Bryden Dies At Coast

SALMON ARM, Feb. 25.—There was a feeling of deep regret among many Salmon Arm friends when it was learned that Mrs. J. Bryden had died suddenly on February 22nd while visiting her son, Wilfred Bryden and family at Burnaby.

Mrs. Bryden was in her 71st year and had enjoyed good health. Of a cheery and kindly disposition, she took an active interest in the world about her. A member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church she was a faithful attendant at all services.

Her husband, the late Mr. John Bryden, died a few years ago.

She is survived by two sons: Wilfred of Burnaby and Archie of Salmon Arm, just recently returned from overseas; and two granddaughters.

Funeral services will be held from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Salmon Arm, on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 27. Interment will be in the family plot, Mt. Ida cemetery.

"What's the King of Beasts bellowing about this morning?"
"That ain't the Lion. That's the keeper. His wife forgot to renew their supply of delicious, crunchy Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

"It's no laughing matter to be deprived of that oh-so-very, malty-rich Grape-Nuts Flakes flavor!"

"And he can't keep us properly fed if he's not well-fed himself — with those carbohydrates for energy, proteins for muscle, phosphorus for teeth and bones, iron for the blood and other food essentials in Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

"Oh Boy!—that two grain cereal is really something. Wheat and malted barley skillfully blended, baked and toasted to a tempting golden brown. Grape-Nuts Flakes are remarkably easy to digest."

"I'll bet the keeper's wife will get the giant economy size Grape-Nuts Flakes next time!"

The Willow

*The gallant tree that gleams in winter
Now beautifies untroubled land;
The maple's bare, the ash forsaken,
But silver see on every hand.
The cohorts of the willow stand.
Brighter in the sodden field and brighter
Against the darkness of the wood—
To him who unaware beholds it
So stand and shine in solitude,
It starts awake the stagnant blood.*

Time For Decision

Publication in the last two issues of this newspaper of a group of letters, with accompanying editorial comment, dealing with the Canadian way of life versus the Soviet Russian way, has come at an opportune moment.

Never have the relations of Canada with the outside world been so sharply thrown into focus as during the past two weeks, and never has the need been so critical for this country to realize where it stands as a world power of significance.

None of the public acts of the citizens of this country have demonstrated any large preference for a violent upheaval in our political institutions. Elections have shown that all but a small minority are opposed to substituting, by any means whatsoever, our present system of democratic government for one of iron-clad authoritarian rule, under whatever name might be adopted. True, we have a substantial body of opinion that holds that sweeping changes must be made, but by peaceful means and by due process of law. The C.C.F. has been saying for years that socialism and democracy are compatible and in Great Britain today that experiment is being tried.

The small minority, and it is a microscopic minority in relation to the body of citizens as a whole, continues as a very vocal one indeed. Its praise of things in the Soviet manner amounts almost to a blanket endorsement of Communism and an almost habitual decrying and belittling of Canadian institutions.

The situation was summarized ably in the current issue of Saturday Night of Toronto, a publication that cannot be accused of bias, except perhaps the bias of Canadianism:

"We are reminded that friendship must be a two-way business, and that we have never yet heard of a Soviet-Canadian Friendship Society giving lectures in Russia on friendship with us. Watching the leaders of the Soviet Union gripping their people for another great, sacrificial effort to increase the country's military power by telling them that they face a world of enemies, we must ask whether they want to be friends with us, and even whether the people of a democracy can ever really be friends with those of a totalitarian dictatorship, denied all ordinary human contacts, or the facts for forming their own judgment.

"Drawing our conclusions from their conduct, we are reminded finally, that we now possess many secrets invaluable to a potential enemy, such as our atomic energy development, our uranium exploitation, our radar, our development of jet propulsion for planes or rockets, our extensive testing of equipment for cold-weather operation, the secrets of many new industrial processes, and our incipient plans for northern defence; and that in our easy-going way we have already allowed a far-reaching fifth column serving the interests of an unpredictable foreign dictatorship to be set up in our midst. Now we are given timely warning that the price of freedom is eternal vigilance, and that although the war against Germany and Japan has been won, the world remains in a dangerous and highly unsettled state."

Worthy Project

During the month of March, the Vernon Branch of the Canadian Red Cross will be engaged in a comprehensive canvass of this city and district for 1946 memberships in the Society.

This appeal, which will surely enjoy the widest measure of support from all sections of this area, replaces the annual fund raising campaigns held annually during the war years.

The aim is to have every adult in this city and district a 1946 member of the Red Cross. That means from 8,000 to 10,000 members, a far larger representation than hitherto, but by no means an impossible figure.

During wartime, the work of the Red Cross needed scarcely any comment. In the liberated countries of Europe, among troops, sick and wounded, prisoners of war, and in Canada, the Red Cross was the first instrument for aid. In these immediate post-war years its task is far from finished, and the Red Cross requires supporters as well as funds.

Four Choices

That Vernon must provide some memorial in tangible form to honor the memory of those who sacrificed in World War II has been very generally accepted by the public.

The form that that memorial should take, having regard to all circumstances, is now a matter for decision. And surely the four alternative plans outlined last week by the Citizens' War Memorial Committee have quite thoroughly covered all possible major schemes.

Very wisely, the committee is not assuming the full responsibility for selection of the one project. It is gathering all pertinent data and is to be guided by a vote of the public in the final selection.

Donation of the Canadian Legion War Services building to the returned men of both wars was previously decided and does not enter into the committee's deliberations at this stage. Financing of this project has yet to be accomplished, however, and a decision should not be too long delayed.

Salute to Sail

Buried inside the papers recently was an item telling of the sinking on a reef off Haiti of the sailing schooner Bluenose from Nova Scotia, winner of five international contests against United States craft.

What memories that report must stir among fishermen and yachtsmen of the North Atlantic coast! Their thoughts travel back through the dark war years to what, in comparison, was the golden peace era of the 30's. Late in October, 1938, eighteen years of racing rivalry between the fishing fleets of Gloucester and Lunenburg were climaxed in the mellow sunshine of an Indian summer afternoon when the Bluenose turned back the Gertrude L. Thebaud, Yankee Challenger, in the fifth and final race of their match for the International Fishermen's Trophy.

That match was the fishermen's valdictory to sail, their famous schooner the fastest of the fishing banks by the greater efficiency of Diesels. And now the Bluenose has gone. In memory, however, she still sails on, pressing forward in a spanking breeze, her great white sails thundering and her lee rail buried beneath the foaming spume. A shouting crew clings to the steepness of water-soaked planks, halcyons smoke in the blocks, and her great bow tramples down the sea—a champion, every inch of her.

Beaver Club Memories

It was with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure that we read the announcement that the Beaver Club in London had closed. There was regret for the kindly hours spent dozing or eating flapjacks and doughnuts at the club, pleasure that the need for the club had now ended.

For other ranks of the Canadian Forces in Britain, there was, since the summer of 1940, no better place where they might escape the presence of officers, eat a good meal which cost them about 25 cents, and while away the quiet afternoon hours between closing and opening time at the pub.

Doughnuts and flapjacks in the snack bar upstairs; more solid fare in the basement cafeteria; deep armchairs, home town newspapers, soft music and a drowsy atmosphere in the drawing rooms—what more could a simple child of nature wish when seeking succor from the arduous of the military life, with its constant emphasis by officers and sergeants on the virtues of always "doing something," with its narrow prejudice against open, honest loafing.

During its first few weeks of its life in 1940 the club was virtually empty, for at that time only soldiers of the First Canadian Division visited it. As it became known for its good works, which consisted in serving splendid viands and in leaving its guests strictly to their own devices, a condition which a soldier on leave finds desirable above all others, men of the Allied forces began to trickle into the club. By early 1941 the atmosphere, although it remained predominantly Canadian, was seasoned with international ingredients.

There were Indo-Chinese and French sailors, Polish soldiers, Norwegian merchant seamen, British Tommies. Later, there were Americans seeking peace and quiet, Greeks, Yugoslavs, in fact, a large proportion of the United Nations. All were welcome, all took their place in line with the Canadians at the snack bar. Although the club became enormously crowded as the years passed, no one even dreamt of suggesting that the club be made exclusively Canadian. It was taken for granted that all fighting men were equal. Canadians found it interesting and instructive to chat with the men from other countries, and these in turn found pleasure in the company of Canadians. By 1943, the Beaver Club had become, perhaps, the most international club in Britain. If one of the most crowded, and this atmosphere added zest to one's visits there.

Newcomers arriving in Britain from Canada soon absorbed its traditions. Pull of vim and the joy of life upon their arrival, they found, during the still hours of the afternoon, no response from the weary patrons who didn't want to do anything any more, but who just wanted to sit in an armchair by the fire and doze comfortably.

It was something in the atmosphere, something which seemed to us peculiarly Canadian, something tranquil and serene, which prevented us from dashing madly about when there seemed no good reason for dashing madly about.

That was the Beaver Club—a unique institution which servicemen will long remember after they have forgotten the gun pits, the night patrols, the air operations and the sea convoys.—"B-M" in the Winnipeg Free Press.

Pearson Says Canadians Confident Of Future

Canada was pictured to a United States audience as a country proud of her war achievements, sovereign and confident, yet liable to frustration if the great powers were unable to compose their differences.

The picture was given by Lester B. Pearson, Canadian ambassador in Washington, to a luncheon of the Rotary Club of New York.

"Canada enlisted more than 1,000,000 men to fight," Mr. Pearson said in reviewing war accomplishments.

"We were the fourth largest producer of munitions and war supplies among the United Nations. The amount of such supplies which we gave ourselves under mutual aid was, in terms of relative national income, even greater than you yourselves, the United States, gave under lease-lend."

Canada faced the post-war world with a sober realization of its difficulties, but with confidence in her future, "if the Great Powers allow us to have any future at all, political or economic."

AS I SEE IT

The Ottawa Spy Case

The Ottawa spy case is bad from any point of view. The hard core of the matter is that certain officials of the Soviet embassy at Ottawa were engaged in spying operations in Canada. It does not make much sense to say that the state, as such, is the cause of this, that all nations spy on others, that the bigger they are the more they spy—and that the more eager they are to obtain certain facts from other countries the more zealous and less scrupulous their spying will be.

The unforgivable sin of a spy is to get caught. If he commits that sin he knows in advance that his government will disown him—will pretend that he was exceeding his authority—will cluck its tongue at him and shake its head in hypocritical disapproval.

But none of that alters the fact that international spying is a very dirty and demoralizing business. Russian officials have been engaged in this business in Canada; have got caught—and the exploitation of those two facts will do much of the friendly outlook that has been held by more and more of our people toward the Soviet.

Just how far Canadian citizens are involved we do not know at this time of writing (which is six days after the spy-scare bombshell was exploded in Ottawa). Our government has been strangely slow in giving out hard, authentic facts. Meanwhile the flood of rumors, smears, manufactured hysteria that poured out of Ottawa was the most disgraceful that I have seen in a quarter of a century of newspaper work. As the London Daily Mirror pointed out on February 20, the great national and international press services undermined gravely their own most priceless asset—that is, public confidence in their factual trustworthiness. They were "taken for a ride" by somebody, and did harm which will take years to undo.

Some of the stories were, on the face of them, so ridiculous that an eight-year-old child could see the gross absurdities. Two days after the bombshell was exploded, the dispatches from Montreal told of the roundup of no less than 220 Soviet spies. Within forty-eight hours this had shrunk from 220 to two. Being part Scot, I rarely get excited on a sure thing. But I would be right now that there will not be even two spies, let alone 220, from all Montreal put on trial.

Whatever may prove the merits of the government's case against Soviet spies, there can be no doubt that the timing and handling of this case we have done grave, partly irreparable damage to international relationships at the very moment when the world could not afford that.

The question therefore arises—why was the case handled this way? Why was no action taken till February 15—when the main facts on which the government bases its complaints were all in its hands on September 7—that is, last year—over five months earlier?

The government has laid itself open to the serious charge that it exploded the spy-scare bombshell when, and how, it did—not to make international relationships better but worse.

The worst feature of the handling of the case was that while nobody would speak for the government authoritatively and competently the government was permitting so-called "authoritative spokesmen" or "high officials" to give to press and radio the crudest, most malicious and libelous defamations against any persons or groups who had shown sympathy with or friendship for our ally.

The people of this country, conscious of the impression that our civil service and scientific services were rotten with treachery.

This whole story was first broken by Drew Pearson on a tip-off which could only have come from the White House. Few say that it was Truman and not King who decided the time for exploding the spy scare bomb. President Truman confirms that he knew of the spy situation last September. Of course there are a number of "ifs" and "buts" and all is grist to the political mill. It will be a lot easier for President Truman to hold the Democrats

Wake Up Canada

One item in Canada's Second Great War history of which citizens of this country have no reason to be proud is summed up in an official statement as follows: "357,634 Canadians of military age were selected in the National Selective Service mobilization call-up as unsuitable for army service anywhere in any capacity."

Any thoughtful Canadian must be stunned by this record. The fact that 357,634 out of the 1,260,952 called up were unfit is a staggering fact. This surely must be a mighty blow to Canada's national pride. And, it might be pertinent to ask how long a nation can survive if decade after decade it fails to provide the healthful conditions and training necessary to develop a physically fit people.

If it is money that blinds the nation to the situation, it should be noted that the cost of establishing modern health services everywhere in the country would be but a mere fraction of the amounts now being wasted in attempts to take care of illness which should have been prevented.

Sickness—much of it preventable—and untimely deaths in Canada are estimated to be costing at least one billion dollars a year. Canadians should wake up to the fact that something should be done—and done quickly.

Wake up, Canada! In their efforts to make the nation healthy, health department administrators need the whole-hearted support of public opinion. To help mould public opinion, the Health League of Canada designated the week of February 3 as "Health Week." This observance was designed to make known the facts about the state of the nation's health, and to make known what can be done immediately to remedy some obvious defects.

"Health Week" was sponsored by the Health League in co-operation with federal and provincial health departments and provincial education department.

Opposes Name Change

The Editor, The Vernon News, Sir: The City Fathers of the past have ridged certain outstanding founders of this city by naming streets and avenues after them. I cannot see any reason for robbing the dead of such a just and fitting tribute.

Certain alterations are necessary, such as, avenues East and West and streets North and South. Such changes or alterations would not destroy such valuable pages of our history as are suggested, by names like Schabert, Barnard, Tronson, Mara, Girouard, Ellison, Dewdney, etc.

History is important and all the large cities, realizing that fact, have retained the historic names of their founders.

If our postmen are not going to be as intelligent as other city postmen, surely we could guide them by putting additions after the historical names, such as: Barnard Avenue 1, Tronson Avenue 2, Schabert Avenue 3, thus making progress without destruction.

All pages of this city's history book are valuable and I trust that the mayor and aldermen will keep it intact, contenting themselves with adding more equally valuable pages, thus earning our gratitude and respect.

Little Norway Design On Norwegian Stamp

A vivid picture and reminder of Canada's war assistance to Norway soon will be carried into homes of the northern land by the Norwegian village postman.

The medium is a bright red postage stamp struck by the Norwegian government to commemorate the story of "Little Norway," the air training centre site north of Toronto where Norwegians trained for the Royal Norwegian Air Force.

The stamp bears a delicately engraved illustration of two Norwegian airmen treading a wide expanse of the globe. One, an airman, nomination now that Henry A. Wallace, the CIO political action committee and other avowed friends of Russia, will be kept on the fence by the calculated repercussions of the Ottawa spy scare.

No doubt any connection is purely coincidental.

B. C. AGRICULTURE

Great in War, Must Be Greater Still in Peace

Our 1946 Production Programme

To be truly great, British Columbia's 1946 Production Programme will see the production of those foods for which there is the greatest world need.

Direction in that production comes from two world-wide bodies:

(a) The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, an emergency organization which is attempting to supply all immediate and pressing needs for food;

and

(b) The Food and Agricultural Organization which is a permanent body and plans future food production and distribution on a world-wide basis.

Reconciling the direction given by these bodies with export credits, trade agreements and firm contracts, the Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference at Ottawa in December last made certain recommendations which summarized are:

5% increase in Dairy Butter;
2% increase in Milk;
100% and upward increase in alfalfa, alsike, and red clover seeds;
and, for British Columbia, 1,000 acre increase in potato planting.

During the war British Columbia gained for itself a good name for top quality seeds, foods, and all produce from its farms and orchards. With a forward look into future years and bigger business, every agriculturist, every citizen should work to ensure that this high standard is maintained.

Apples Are Living Material Requiring Special Storage

Apples in the fresh state—whether attached to the tree or not—are living material. This has a bearing on all problems associated with fresh apple storage. Its importance cannot be too strongly stressed in considering storage problems, states W. R. Phillips, Division of Horticulture, experimental Farms Service, in "The Storage of Apples" (Publication 776) just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

By virtue of the fact that apples are composed of living tissue, their structure is made up of small units called cells. These cells must be kept intact and well supplied with food elements, principally sugars, if life is to be maintained.

The publication deals fully with all phases of storage conditions. In addition, there are particularized storage notes on specific varieties of apples. A copy of the publication may be obtained by writing to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Butter stocks have fallen more than a ton per day during the past two weeks. Less than 40,000 pounds of butter are on hand. This is a very small quantity for a business which now handles more than a million and a half pounds per year. The manager stated that even on the new reduced ration it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to supply all regular customers of the Association as well as the Salmon Arm and Kamloops creameries. Production of butter is approximately 30 percent lower than two years ago.

Unless returns to farmers are improved, an official of the creamery says, butter will be harder to get in the winter of 1946-47 than it is now. It is a matter which is up to the government, he said. Payments to farmers in the Okanagan Valley at 46¢ per pound, at the Western Canada.

Infantry School Unique

It has been announced from Ottawa that April 1 the Canadian Army opens at Camp Borden the Canadian School of Infantry, an establishment new and unique in Canadian military annals, in that for the first time all phases of infantry training and warfare will be taught at one centre.

The infantry, long recognized as the undisputed Queen of the Battlefield, has emerged from the greatest war in history with her importance undiminished, as such renowned commanders as Field Marshals Lord Wavell and Viscount Montgomery have so recently stressed. The Canadian School of Infantry will combine centrally the entire range of teaching functions in infantry subjects which previously were undertaken by a number of separate establishments across Canada.

Infantry students to attend the school will be chosen from officers, NCO's and specialists of both Active and Reserve Force units of the Canadian Army.

LT-Col. D. B. Buell, D.S.O., who commanded the North Shore Regiment from the D-Day landings on the beaches of Normandy until wounded leading his battalion in the bitter fighting at Quesnay Wood, has been selected as the school's first commandant. An R.M.C. graduate and professional soldier, first commissioned in the R.C.R., Lt-Col. Buell is widely known in the Canadian Army as an able tactician, an experienced commander and an expert in infantry training.

He is to have as associate commandant, Lt-Col. Paul Triquet, V.C., of the Royal 22nd Regiment, a well known figure to all Canadians. Lt-Col. Triquet's service with Canada's famous French-speaking regiment was climaxed by the award of the Empire's most coveted decoration following his exploit at Casa Berardi during the Italian campaign where leading his company as a captain he captured and held against desperate odds, a point vital to the Canadians' eventual success. He enlisted in the Royal 22nd Regiment in 1939 and rose through the ranks to be regimental sergeant-major. In 1939 he proceeded overseas with his regiment and was later commissioned.

Junior Red Cross members in British Columbia raised nearly $15,000 by their own efforts for their Crippled and Handicapped Children's Fund. Forty-two children, from various parts of the province, were given assistance last year through this fund.

MEET AND MIX FROM COAST TO COAST IN CANADA

Evergreen Vancouver

MR. MORRIS W. WILSON, President, Royal Bank, and an eminent Canadian, recently said of the Tourist Industry:

"It provides jobs; visitors scatter over our country in such a way as to carry trade to practically every hamlet; international goodwill is fostered by the happy way in which visitors and our own people meet and mix and do business. We have not done more than scratch the surface of the tourist industry."

Expansion of our tourist traffic will prove invaluable to the post-war development of our country, but it should be accompanied by a great increase in travel between Canadians themselves.

For a more closely-knit unity, more friendly understanding between all sections of Canada, there's nothing like the meeting and mixing of the people of our nine provinces.

Canada has variety of climates and scenic beauty, traditions of courtesy and hospitality to equal any nation on earth. They should be better known to visitors and Canadians alike.

This message is the first of a series supporting the efforts of our Government's Travel Bureau and Provincial Tourist Associations to make Tourist Travel a major Canadian industry. Starting from West to East, first subject of our travel high spots from Coast to Coast is the state of Vancouver Harbour and the North Shore mountains, a scene that visitors to Vancouver never forget. War Memorial Committee Formed at Salmon Arm

SALMON ARM, Feb. 25.—First steps towards a scheme to erect a suitable war memorial in honor of the men from Salmon Arm and district who paid the supreme sacrifice in World War I, were taken at a public meeting in the Rex Theatre last Tuesday evening, February 19.

The meeting called jointly by the City and district council was attended by a representative group of 125 residents of city and district. Numerous projects were suggested by various speakers during the evening. The most fitting living memorial in the opinion of most speakers was a centre which would serve throughout the year. It would be of great service to the community at large and would be a fitting tribute to the war dead. Following considerable debate, on motion of Ken H. Young, and Mr. Fred Calvert, a committee of seven was appointed to examine the various suggestions, obtaining full information of each and report back to a public meeting to be held as soon as possible.

The committee named were: Mayor R. J. Skelton, chairman; Ross A. McLeod, W. H. Grant, Tom Middleton, Ernest Doe, M. S. Minlon and Frank Marshall.

Mayor Skelton was chairman of the meeting and Ernest Doe secretary.

Dominion Apiarist Issues Warning

For the beekeeper who winters his bees late in the year, early spring constitute the most critical period of the year. Most of the so-called winter losses occur during this period and most of these losses are due to starvation, says C. B. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Unfortunately, when preparing the bees for winter, there is a tendency to hold the winter food supply to a minimum making little or no allowance for unfavorable conditions the following spring. Once brood rearing is resumed during late winter, food consumption within the colony increases enormously and the supply given for the winter is in danger of becoming exhausted long before new supplies are available from the fields.

Even if the spring sources of nectar and pollen should open early it is folly to rely upon them to supply the bees' needs. Weather conditions may be such that the flowers fail to secrete nectar or the bees may be prevented from gathering what nectar is available. The experience of 1945 should be enough to cause every beekeeper to watch his colonies closely during the period immediately ahead in order to prevent heavy losses from starvation. Many a colony that looks well and strong now may easily be dead within a month.

A recent examination of a number of colonies at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, disclosed that brood rearing was well underway and the condition of the brood indicated that egg laying commenced during the first week in January. This means that winter food is being used to rear brood; consequently, it is in danger of exhaustion long before the spring sources of nectar are available. Early feeding may be necessary to save them. Beekeepers should watch their colonies so that they may prevent serious losses.

SCREEN FLASHES

Gary Cooper produced and stars in the picture "Along Came Jones" which plays at the Capitol Theatre today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. His co-star is Loretta Young. This is a western that does not follow the standard pattern of westerns. The most unconventional thing about it is the hero, played by Cooper. He can't shoot worth a damn, he doesn't go around looking for trouble. He is, in fact, mostly a quiet, unassuming cowboy who likes to be left alone. In this story he does not get much chance because he is mistaken for a bandit and a lot of people spend a lot of time chasing him and shooting at him. He gets the girl though but he doesn't kill the villain. She does.

Deanna Durbin gets mixed up in her first murder mystery in "Lady on a Train," the picture showing at the Capitol Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 5, 6 and 7. She also manages to find opportunities to sing. The story is very pretentious but it is good entertainment and contains a considerable amount of comedy. The laugh situations are handled by Edward Everett Horton and Allen Jenkins while Ralph Bellamy, George Coulouris, David Bruce and Dan Duray look after the villainy, virtue and violence. The chief attraction, however, is Miss Durbin and her voice.

Coming Events...

There seems to be some throat trouble here as Hermann Goering makes significant gestures while sitting in the prisoners' dock at Nuernberg, Germany, during the sessions of the war crimes trial against Nazi defendants. Admiral Karl Doenitz (rear), appears to be doing a little worrying too. This is due, perhaps, to their having heard so much about the "rope" lately.

WALKING CAN BE DANGEROUS!

On country roads, and in districts where there are roads without sidewalks, the toll of pedestrian killed and injured by motor vehicles mounts year by year. Just consider that at night on a dark road surface, a pedestrian in dark clothing, walking in the same direction as a motor vehicle is moving, cannot be seen by the driver under normal conditions until he is within 100 feet. If the car is being driven over 30 miles an hour it would be impossible to stop, under average conditions, before reaching the pedestrian. And yet walking isn't dangerous when pedestrians walk the right way, the safe way and the lawful way.

Excerpt from "The Highway Act" Province of British Columbia

PEDESTRIANS ON HIGHWAYS
24A. Every pedestrian proceeding along any highway where a sidewalk is provided shall proceed upon the sidewalk. Every pedestrian proceeding along any highway where no sidewalk is provided shall proceed on the extreme left-hand side of the roadway.
